Continuing Education Resources

If you have difficulty finding continuing education resources in your area, below is a list of some options (some are free, others are not). The Children's Dyslexia Centers accept all the options listed for continuing education hours.

Please note: If you select an option that does not provide a signed, dated attendance certificate, you are required to complete a short form and write a brief reaction paper. Approved journals, approved books, and the forms with directions for reaction papers are posted on our website at:
